

2008 workshops and Friday lectures

In 2008, we have four major events—four international speakers will be in town to present two talks and a workshop each. Mark your calendars: May 8-10, June 12-14, September 11-13 and November 13-15, 2008. Julie McBeth, from Australia will be in town in May to present two talks and a workshop before heading out to UAC. In June Maria K. Simms, a UAC presenter will be in town to present two talks and a workshop at the Guild. After our Summer break, in September, Stephanie J. Clement, author of ten astrology books, will be presenting two talks and a workshop at the Guild. In November, Chris McRae from Edmonton will be in Vancouver to present two talks and a workshop, and administering the ISAR competency exam on the Sunday. Chris is also lecturing at UAC next Spring. It is exciting to have so many world-class astrologers right here in town over the next year, and as a Guild member you can sign up at a significant savings for all four events: four Friday night talks and four workshops for $275.00; the four workshops for $250.00, when paid by March 15, 2008. Each regular workshop fee is $90—4x$90=$360 ($70 with the early bird discount: 4x$70=$280)—you can realize significant savings while helping the Guild commit to bringing excellent astrologers to share their knowledge.

Julie McBeth has a Commerce Degree from the University of Melbourne and has worked as a financial journalist for The Australian Financial Review and Business Review Weekly. She is currently a financial communications consultant, advising companies on how they should communicate with their shareholders, and the media, as well as an astrological consultant specializing in financial astrology.

Julie will be presenting two talks and a workshop on Financial Astrology. She has been teaching Financial Astrology to both astrologers and traders over the past couple of years. Her twenty years in the field of finances have provided her tools for using astrology for investing and predicting cycles. Julie splits her workweek between financial communications consulting and astrological consulting at her busy practice in Melbourne Australia. Her talks always draw a big crowd and we are delighted she has agreed to do this for us at such short notice.

Maria Kay Simms, a professional astrologer for over 30 years, is a former Chair of National Council for Geocosmic Research, Inc. (NCGR). She is certified CA NCGR in Consulting and PMAFA, and is a member of Association for Professional Astrologers International (MAPAI). Maria was educated as a fine artist (BFA, Illinois Wesleyan University), and had a substantial early art career prior to her study of astrology beginning in 1973. She has also been active in related businesses, first as proprietor of a metaphysical bookshop, and later as the Art Director, then President of Astro Communications Services, Inc. in San Diego. She is the author of eight books, six of them currently in print: Dial Detective, Future Signs, Your Magical Child, The Witch's Circle, A Time for Magick and Moon Tides, Soul Passages. In late 2004, now living in New Hampshire, Maria started a new business, Starcrafts LLC, through which she is publishing books and art products based on paintings by herself and a daughter, Molly Sullivan. Maria's astrological techniques are practical but also strongly influenced by metaphysical concepts and by her spiritual path as a Wiccan High Priestess. She emphasizes the power of personal choice.

Topics in June: Becoming Whole, Claim your Power to Choose and workshop: Moon Tides, Soul Passages. See more on the web at www.astrologyguild.com/June.htm

Stephanie Clement, Ph.D. (Colorado) is a professional astrologer certified by the American Federation of Astrologers. She has been practicing astrology for over thirty years. She is a board member of the American Federation of Astrologers and former board member of NCGR. Stephanie has served on the faculty of Kepler College and has been a speaker at the State of the Art Conference and many regional conferences. She has degrees in English Literature, Library Science, Humanistic Psychological Counseling, and Transpersonal Psychology. Before pursuing astrology full-time, she had a private counseling practice in Boulder, and worked with clients on personal and career issues using astrology, hypnotherapy, and dream work. Stephanie has published numerous articles in astrological magazines and has written several books: Charting Your Spiritual Path with Astrology, Dreams: Working Interactive, Meditation for beginners (also available in Spanish and other languages), Power of the Midheaven, Mapping Your Birthchart, and Mapping Your Family Relationships, Mapping Your Sex Life, and Aspect Patterns; her interpretation programs include Opportunities (career) and Your Spiritual Path (for Win*Writer), Jupiter's Promise, and Saturn's Promise (for Kepler), and Angels (for Solar Fire).

Topics in September: Rectification the Easy Way, The Midheaven and workshop: The Astrology of Development. See more on the web at www.astrologyguild.com/September.htm

Chris McRae is a full-time astrologer, as a consultant, teacher, international lecturer, author, and previously a TV personality. She has lectured in over twenty countries, conducted workshops extensively in the US and Canada, and appears constantly on major convention faculties. Her books include, "The Geodetic World Map", "Understanding Interceptions"; as well as, a contributing author in "Astrology of the Macrocosm", and OPA's "How to Start, Maintain, and Expand an Astrological Practice". She is Honorary Life President of the EAS, served on various Boards including AFA, AFAN, UAC, ISAR, and currently ISAR'S Vice-President. She is also Chair of ISAR'S Certification Program.

Topics in November: How Ascendants behave and what they say, 12th house fears, strengths and fantasies, Workshop: When Generational Becomes Personal and vice a versa: The Unique cycles of the Moon and the great conjunctions personalized.
