Consulting Skills for Astrologers

The single most important talent of great astrologers is the ability to hear what the client says and offer appropriate feedback. You must relate to the client on his or her terms first. The September program is designed to help us hone in on the chart as well as the person.

Thursday Lecture

September 13, 2012 7:30 PM

A key to thought process

Are you looking for ways to communicate more skillfully or to identify personal style in the birth chart? The dispositor can tell you about the client's disposition before you ever cast a chart! And you can consider your own style too.

But don't let the simplicity of this method fool you. From the dispositor you can identify ways people tend to think, make decisions and act. This method provides a way to create rapport easily and provide effective consultation.

Friday Parlour Talk

September 14, 2012 7:00 PM

Astrological Consulting Process

Do you have too many tools for the job? How can you select the right tools for each consulting job quickly? Sometimes the client need a slap on the fanny, no astrology required. Other times we use complex tools to identify profound themes. This evening's discussion will touch on the following:

- How much astrology is needed?
- How much counselling or consulting is appropriate?
- How do we select appropriate tools?
- Which astrological techniques apply?
- What is the practical/mental/psychological/spiritual level of the client?
- When should we send the client elsewhere
- When should we use non-astrological skills?

Saturday Workshop

September 15, 2012 10:30 PM-5:00 PM

Decisions and Choices with Astrology

Today you will learn specific ways to interact more successfully with clients. You may already have some of these skills. For others you need to wrap your mind around the theory and then practice it. All these skills are widely used, and all offer fundamental tools for interacting with clients. You will learn how to:

- understand your client's needs more effectively
- use astrology skills and data to access client creativity
- reframe (alter) the client's perception of a problem
- making decisions with astrology
- use astrology for future pacing (developing awareness of future possibilities)
- state astrological potential in practical language for the client
- face and discuss ethical issues that arise

Sunday Workshop

September 16, 2012 10:30 PM-5:00 PM

Practicing Astrological and Consulting Skills

Now you learn how to apply Saturday's skill set in your client interactions. Today's workshop considers the following:

- Learning to "hear" the client and identify issues
- Accessing the client's creative talents via astrology
- Reframing problems—changing "I can't seem to" into "I can see how to"
- Helping the client to formulate choices and make decisions
- Future pacing to ensure client perceives milestones and auspicious timing

- More about Ethical Issues

In selecting charts to use in this portion of the workshop, preference will be given to

- individuals attending the Saturday workshop.
- individuals who pre-register with birth data (personal only!)
